

A lot can happen in 35 years!

In 1982, New Hope Ministries began with an exploratory committee of representatives of local churches and concerned citizens who lived in and around Dillsburg. They asked questions like, "Where do people in our community know when they are struggling with poverty?" And, "What does it mean to be a person of faith and good conscience when a neighbor is struggling with hunger, cold, homelessness, unemployment, and has run out of hope?"

The result of these conversations is that New Hope Ministries was founded as a Christian non-profit, social service agency, and opened its doors in January 1983. New Hope became the place you could go for healthy food, kindness, and a second chance. Over the past few decades, our experiment in loving our neighbors God's way has grown into a network of mutually supporting help offices across six communities and three counties. Along the way, we've made a lot of friends, and want to share credit with some of our amazing partners, including hundreds of local church congregations, community groups, local municipalities, local businesses, county and state governments, our area United Ways, and respected nonprofits like the Central Pennsylvania Food Bank and CommunityAid. We cannot say thank you enough to the thousands of volunteers and local supporters who believe in our mission and share their time and resources to help change lives!

Since New Hope Ministries opened our doors, this little community organization has become a model ministry and program serving our neighbors in need. People can get nutritious food, learn how to use money wisely, overcome financial crisis, receive education and training, and find employment to support their families. We offer programs for seniors, families, kids, and anyone who comes through our doors. We try to live by our values of Faithfulness, Compassion, Dignity, Wholeness, Cooperation, Stewardship, and Accountability, and know that we are only successful when we work together and remember that everything we do for the "least of these" we do it unto Him.

This past year our staff and board crafted a new strategic plan. We invite you to explore our website and read about what we feel God is calling us to do these next five years. We know there are needs for some new facilities, some new programs, and to provide the resources we need to be prepared when we face the next economic downturn, so New Hope will always be here to help. One of the most exciting parts to come out of our year of planning was the adoption of a new vision statement for the organization, which is simply, "Every life transformed." This is inspired in part by the scripture in Romans 12:2, which says, "Be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will." It is amazing that whenever we strive to do God's will, whether it's practicing generosity, loving our neighbor, or changing parts of our life that need work, our lives are being transformed into the people we were created to be.

For those who have helped us by giving their time, talents, and treasure, we are so grateful for you. You have empowered us to be the place where people come for help and comfort. For those tens of thousands of people who have been helped over the past four decades, you inspire us! We are watching as you struggle with heavy burdens and want you to know how much we admire you and are here to help when you need us.

SINCE 1982, NEW HOPE MINISTRIES MEETS BASIC HUMAN NEEDS OF LOW-INCOME AND IN-CRISIS FAMILIES AND INDIVIDUALS IN OUR LOCAL COMMUNITIES.

Through the love and hope of Christ, New Hope builds stronger, more stable communities by providing a safety net for people facing hunger, homelessness and financial crisis as we equip our guests to move toward long-term stability.

Through our six offices and five monthly mobile food pantry locations, New Hope provides an array of basic needs services to over 22,000 individuals: “Dollars & Sense” classes teach budget and money management skills; nutrition and cooking classes help guests learn how to choose and prepare healthy meals on a budget; and job training programs and workforce development opportunities such as high school equivalency (GED) preparation classes, Nurse Aide classes, Forklift Certification Training, CDL Class A truck driving program, and a Welding program lead to self-sufficiency.

New Hope also offers weekend backpack programs, which provide nutritious, easy-to-prepare foods to families with children over the weekend and summer months when free and reduced school meals are unavailable. New Hope also offers youth programs that provide a safe place where low income children, who are at risk of academic failure and future poverty, can achieve academic success, feel a sense of belonging, and work to develop qualities needed for a successful life. Our programs provide hands-on and parent-centered supervised recreation, educational activities, community service, and life skills instruction.

Our vision is for the children in our youth programs to be safe and healthy, to be prepared for school and life, to develop character, and give back to the community.

Typical New Hope guests are those living at or below 200% of the federal poverty level and including the “working poor,” senior citizens, single parent households, and families thrown into chaos by illness, job loss, spousal abandonment, or other crisis. Guided by our faith, values, and compassion, we seek to be good stewards of the resources we have received and would consider it the highest compliment for a client family not to need our services any longer.
